

AUDITORS AND PROGRAM ANALYSTS

The Special Inspector General for Iraq Reconstruction is seeking Auditors and Program Analysts for its Baghdad and Arlington, Virginia Offices. Travel to Iraq may be required for candidates assigned to the Arlington Office.

Salary range is $74,416-$126,850. Entitlements in Iraq can equal as much as an additional 70 percent of salary.

SIGIR, the Special Inspector General for Iraq Reconstruction, has a highly specialized mission, reporting to both the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of State on our objective oversight of Iraq reconstruction. We are focused on promoting economy, efficiency and effectiveness, as well as to prevent and detect waste, fraud, and abuse in Iraq reconstruction programs and operations. SIGIR is a temporary organization created to ensure accountability during the period of U.S. involvement in the reconstruction of Iraq.

Resumes accepted until June 6, 2008

Current and retired Federal employees are encouraged to apply.

E-mail your resume to jobs@sigir.mil or Fax your resume to: (703) 428-0817

Serves with a team of auditors, program analysts, or inspectors to accomplish objectives in all phases of the performance audit cycle; develops and applies audit techniques of some complexity to accomplish audit objectives related to the team's conduct of performance audits of identified programs and operations; may work several projects concurrently; ensures that all audits are conducted in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

EEO Employer